Before RxP's Prescription Mail Delivery Program, Maria had trouble finding reliable transportation to get to the clinic to pick-up her prescriptions. Now, she doesn’t have to worry because the medications she needs are delivered directly to her home and she can live a happier and healthier life.
Rx Partnership is a critical part of the health safety net that provides affordable brand & generic medications to low-income, uninsured Virginians.

The devastating health and economic crisis caused by the Coronavirus pandemic has only increased the financial hardships and health inequities in communities all across the Commonwealth, making health safety net organizations like Rx Partnership more important than ever.

In 2020, RxP provided 129 different medications to treat over $1 chronic conditions, including:
- Diabetes
- Depression
- Asthma/COPD
- High Blood Pressure

INCREASING NEED & DECREASING RESOURCES
The full impact of COVID-19 has yet to be seen. More and more of Virginia’s most vulnerable households are being pushed below the poverty line.

- 39% of Virginia households faced financial hardships & struggled to afford basic necessities PRIOR to the pandemic (AxisMap/ACEE)
- 41% increase in RxP prescriptions versus 2019
- 55% of clinics report an increase in patients (VAFPCC/2020 Survey Data)

NEW PRESCRIPTION MAIL DELIVERY PROGRAM
In April 2020, RxP launched a new prescription mail delivery program that allows clinics to mail prescriptions directly to patients’ homes at NO COST to either clinic partners or patients. This program:
- Limits unnecessary exposure
- Addresses the increasing healthcare demand
- Maintains medication adherence in a crisis
- Saves money for both clinics and patients

While this program is vital during COVID-19, its also critical for patients with transportation and/or health barriers that prevent them from getting their medications.

1,406 packages shipped
12 participating clinics
17,693 miles packages traveled
14 COVID-19 Response Grants received by RxP for the mail delivery program

“I appreciate the delivery of medicines at home.”
